There is a wonderful new park being constructed in Southwest Houston. The Willow Waterhole Greenspace Conservancy (WWGC) is a non-profit organization of community partners working with HPARD and HCFCD to create the best park possible. The Park will have a series of interconnected permanent lakes with a variety of recreational amenities and an emphasis on conservation of natural resources.

A healthy parks system makes a substantial contribution to the quality of life in Houston. WWGC's challenge is the availability of finances to support the Park, specifically for more trees, an irrigation system and the acquisition of additional land.

Come experience Southwest Houston's newest Greenspace!
